

Five Days of Turkey.

The first day is Thanksgiving;

The noble fowl is shot;

And at your place so full of grace

You'll find it nice and hot.

The second day is Friday's;

And here's the story old:

The luscious turkey, so full of work,

Is served in slices cold.

On Saturday you suffer much

And things look pretty rank;

To join the ranks the bird of thanks

Is now entitled "hash."

The fourth day makes you sorry

He ever left his coop;

Amid your jeers he now appears

A steaming bowl of soup.

As all things have an ending

We'll let it go at that;

So eat the best and give the rest

Unto your neighbor's cat.

The shotgun idiot is more dangerous than usual this season, for he is slaughtering the community instead of himself. In Cowley county a man poked his gun into a fence to a rabbit come out and shot his comrade, who was on the other side. At Kingman a man traveling through the country handed his gun, muzzle first, to his wife and shot her right arm off at the shoulder.

If the average man would look himself squarely in the eye, he would see at once that he needs Rocky Mountain Tea. A priceless boon to men. 35c. "Ask your Druggist." 12-7-1m.

Vandalia Leader:—The recent Republican landslide has caused quite a commotion here in the ranks of the victors as to who will be postmaster of Vandalia. There are five candidates for the position—Mrs. M. Conway, the present incumbent, S. U. Branstetter, S. C. Foster, W. R. Gwillim and James Bland. Four of these candidates have consented for the Republican club to select the candidate. Therefore, a meeting will be held Saturday night for that purpose. Whoever the club selects will have the support of that body.

Want to be Speaker.

This far only nine men have announced their burning and consuming desire to be speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives.

The candidates thus far announced are: W. D. Hamilton, of Daviess; J. H. Whitecotton, of Monroe; James T. Blair, of De Kalb; Peter Huck, of St. Genevieve; Joseph Tapley, of Pike; C. C. Dickison, of Henry; John R. Nicholson, of Cass; Edgar W. Woolfork, of Lincoln, and Thos. Hackney, of Jasper.

Art thou one of the many that has drained the Golden Nectar that maketh thy heart full of strength and gladness? If not, take Rocky Mountain Tea. "Ask your Druggist." 12-7-1m.

The editor was busy when he asked "How are the markets?" He was referred to the office wit, who looked wise and said: "Young men, unsteady, girls, lively and in demand; papas, firm but declining; mamas, unsettled, but waiting for higher bids; coffee considerably mixed; fresh fish, active and slippery; wheat, a grain better than barley; eggs, quiet, but expected to open shortly; whiskey is still going down; onions, strong and rising; bread-stuffs, heavy; boots and shoes—those on the market are solid and constantly going up and down; hats and caps, not as high as last year except foolscap, which is stationary; tobacco very low and has a downward tendency; silver, close, but not close enough to get hold of; cheese, very lively."

Dewitt's Little Early Risers are dainty little pills, but they never fail to cleanse the liver, remove obstructions and invigorate the system. City Drug Store. 12-7-1m.

A Peculiar Accident.

A peculiar accident occurred in a Western town recently. The big iron safe in a shoe factory refused to open, and the bookkeeper and engineer conceived the idea that they could burn out the combination by use of carbon and electricity. It took several hours to accomplish their purpose, but they finally succeeded, but not until they had stood for several hours in the glare of the electric light taking turns at holding the wire and carbon. When the work was over both complained of a dizziness, and pain in the head which increased as the hours passed, and in a short time both went suddenly blind at about the same time. All efforts to restore their sight have been unavailing, for while the eyeballs appear all right, the sight is destroyed.

Broke Jail at Mexico.

One night last week the jail birds of Mexico, Mo., sawed their way through the iron casing and then chiseled a hole through the brick wall and said good bye to Sheriff Nelson.

Wages of the World.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, has completed his fifteenth annual report. It is a compilation of wages in commercial countries and embraces data relative to highest, lowest and average wages paid and the hours of labor in ninety-two countries, provinces and colonies, exclusive of forty-seven states and territories in this country. This compilation is taken from authentic official sources, and is not the result of original inquiry. The very nature of the work prevents any summary. It gives quotations for each country as far back as any official statement was to be found and down to present year. These quotations are for 4,459 occupations and subdivisions of occupations. The facts are taken from nearly 1,500 different official reports and they cover 900,000 definite rates.

A Capital Idea

Here is an excellent suggestion from the Pike County Post.

Here is a fashion, set by a Linn county farmer, which our friends in Pike would do well to follow. Jas. Jackson is the man's name, and he put up at his gate on the public road, a sign board on which is painted his name and the name of his farm, and also the name and distance to his postoffice. Below there is a blackboard on which he writes from time to time what articles he has for sale, and he says it has resulted in his making several good sales of stock and grain. We have before this suggested that on every farm there should be a conspicuous sign giving the name of the owner, and the distance to the next town. The Linn county man has given us one better and we accept his amendment. Hope to see Montgomery county farmer follow suit.

THE THIRD AMENDMENT.

What Attorney General Crow Thinks Of It.

Attorney General Crow, at the request of the Governor, has delivered an opinion on the provisions of the third constitutional amendment, relating to the taxation of mortgages.

This opinion received of legal verbiage, declares:

On all mortgages or deeds of trust outstanding at the time of the adoption of the amendment, all agreements about the payment of taxes are valid. There can be no impairment of the obligation of contracts. Beckman vs. Skaggs, 59 Cal. 544.

The words in the adoption amendment declaring null and void every contract by which a debtor is obligated to pay any tax or assessment on money borrowed applies only to contracts made after the adoption of the amendment.

On all mortgages or deeds of trust, outstanding at the time of the adoption of the amendment, containing an express agreement that mortgagee should pay taxes, in such cases the mortgagee is primarily liable for taxes assessed against mortgagee's interest in the land. If, under such circumstances, the mortgagee pays all the taxes, he may deduct from the face of the mortgage the amount of taxes assessed against the owner of the mortgage. To make this clearer: Before the adoption of the amendment, the mortgagee owed to the state all the taxes on the value of the land less the value of the mortgage debt. And, of course, the mortgagee will owe the taxes on the value of the mortgage debt. Hay vs. Hill, 65 Cal. 383.—Mexico Intelligencer.

Trouble over an Election Bet.

In the Sibley congressional district in Pennsylvania they are having some trouble over one of the numerous bets made on the result of the election. It appears that among the bets was one for $8,000 between some parties in Bradford and others in Franklin. A McKean county man of wealth and connected with a bank volunteered to hold stakes, and they were placed in his hands. After the election he turned over to the winners only a part of the money, keeping 25 per cent, or, $2,000, of the amount as commission. According to a Franklin newspaper, the friends of the gentleman there still believe that he intended to return the money, and his action is explained in this way, that he is not aware of the source from which the bets came, and that when he understands the true situation the remaining $2,000 will be sent to them. If the Pennsylvania laws were enforced with regard to wagers on election it would go still harder with those who made the bet. They would not only lose the $2,000 which the stakeholder has retained, but all they put up and three times more.

42 Years in Business.

The auction sale that began last Saturday in this city and continued over into this week marks the closing out of the oldest business house in Montgomery City. About 42 years ago, Ham Bros. John and Hardin Ham started in the grocery business here. The first year they handled only groceries, but the second year they put in a general stock of groceries, dry goods, notions etc. From that day to this, the firm of Ham Brothers enjoyed a wide reputation for good goods, honest and fair dealings. The firm continued up to about seven years ago when John Ham, the senior member, sold out to his brother Hardin who conducted the business alone, assisted by his son and daughter, up to the time of Hardin Ham's death last summer. Since then Homer Ham has conducted the business, assisted by his sister and uncle. Homer Ham has not decided whether he will again engage in business here.
